1940–2010
"I'm a Cubbie. I'll always be a Cubbie."
~ RON SANTO

RONALD EDWARD SANTO
FEBRUARY 25, 1940-DECEMBER 3, 2010

The Cubs lost one of their own when Ron Santo passed away in the early morning of December 3, 2010. A nine-time All-Star third baseman who hit for power, Santo played 15 major league seasons – including 14 years with the Cubs from 1960-73 – before closing out his career with the White Sox in 1974. In 1990, he joined the WGN Radio broadcast team and provided color commentary for Cubs games through the 2010 campaign.

Besides his impact both on the field and in the radio booth, Ron touched many lives through his work for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, helping to raise much-needed funds to continue the hope to find a cure for diabetes, a disease that he was diagnosed with at the age of 18.

On the Field

Ron produced Hall of Fame-worthy numbers in his 15-year big league career. The right-handed hitting slugger batted .277 with 365 doubles, 342 home runs and 1,331 RBI in 2,243 big league contests with the Cubs (1960-73) and White Sox (1974), making nine All-Star teams and winning five Rawlings Gold Glove awards for his play at third base.

Some of his career numbers that stand out include:

- Ron led the N.L. in assists for seven-straight seasons from 1962-68, tying a Senior Circuit record.
- He recorded a major league record eight-straight seasons with 90 RBI as a third baseman.
- In 1965, he tied a major league record with 164 games played at third base.
- Ron hit safely in a then modern-day Cubs record 28-straight games from May 31-July 4, 1966.
- In 1967, he set a big league record for the second-straight season with 393 assists at third base.
- He ranks in the Cubs' top-10 all-time rankings in multiple categories:
  - 1,071 walks rank second.
  - 337 home runs rank fourth.
  - 2,126 games played, 7,768 at-bats, 1,290 RBI and 756 extra-base hits rank fifth.
  - 3,667 total bases rank sixth.
  - 2,171 hits rank seventh.
  - 1,109 runs scored rank eighth.
  - 353 doubles rank ninth.

In the Broadcast Booth

Ron began his broadcasting career in 1990, teaming up with Thom Brennaman and Bob Brenly in the WGN Radio booth. Prior to the 1996 season, Pat Hughes was hired as the station's play-by-play man and would team with Ron for the next 15 seasons.

Pat and Ron had a close, unique relationship in the booth as the two were able to play off each other and entertain fans on a daily basis. Ron never hid his passion for the Cubs and wore his feelings on his sleeve through the inevitable ups and downs that come throughout a baseball season.

Ron's enthusiasm for the game, and the Cubs, permeated from the booth to the clubhouse and the field. Prior to gametime, he would interview players and the team's skipper, with those chats becoming more like friendly conversations between two close friends. He was not only a member of the team, but also one of its biggest fans.

A Charitable Cub

For all the lives Ron touched through his 35 years with the Cubs as a player and broadcaster, he positively affected countless others with his efforts to raise awareness and funds for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. Playing with diabetes his entire career, Ron wanted to help fight the disease and assist people afflicted with it any way he could.

In 1972, he endorsed the JDRF's annual Ron Santo Walk to Cure Diabetes, an event that has raised more than $40 million to support diabetes research and continued hope for a cure.

Diabetes would eventually claim Ron's legs when doctors had to amputate both below his knees. In true fashion, Ron turned his struggles into a positive, both through the documentary This Old Cub – a film that chronicles his fight with diabetes while helping to raise funds for the JDRF – and by sharing his insights with fellow diabetes patients whenever he could.

The Cubs will recognize Ron's career as all uniformed personnel will wear commemorative No. 10 patches during the 2011 season. In addition, Chicago will dedicate a statue of Ron, August 10, before the 7:05 p.m. CT game against the Washington Nationals.

PHIL CAVARRETTA
1916–2010
1945 N.L. MVP,
Four-Time N.L. All-Star,
Forever a Cub.

PHILIP JOSEPH CAVARRETTA
JULY 19, 1916-DECEMBER 18, 2010

Cubs legend Phil Cavarretta – who played for the North Siders from 1934-53 and also managed the club in his final three seasons – passed away on December 18, 2010, at the age of 94. Cavarretta was the 1945 National League Most Valuable Player, and his 20 seasons with the Cubs are a franchise record for a position player.

Phil, a left-handed batter and thrower who played first base and roamed the outfield, finished his big league career with a .293 batting average, 347 doubles, 99 triples, 95 home runs and 920 RBI between the Cubs and White Sox (1954-55).

Local Beginnings

Born in Chicago, Phil attended Lane Tech High School in the city and signed with the Cubs in 1934. He would make his major league debut in September of that season. The 18 year old was the youngest player in the league, and in his first Wrigley Field appearance on September 25, he hit a solo home run to help down Cincinnati, 1-0.

Phil would go on to bat .381 in seven contests in his 1934 debut season. The following year, as the team's permanent replacement at first base for Charlie Grimm, he appeared in 146 contests, batting .275 as a rookie with 82 RBI and helping the club win the 1935 N.L. pennant, thanks in part to a 21-game winning streak in September.

A Special 1945 Season

After enjoying his first All-Star selection in 1944, batting .321 and leading the N.L. with 197 hits, Phil had an even better 1945 campaign, helping the Cubs win the N.L. pennant and play the franchise's most recent World Series appearance.

Again named to the N.L. All-Star squad, Phil would go on to lead the league with a .355 batting average and a .449 on-base percentage in 132 games en route to N.L. MVP honors – he was just the fourth Cub to win MVP accolades, joining Frank Schulte (1911), Rogers Hornsby (1929) and Gabby Hartnett (1935).

Phil batted .423 with a .500 on-base percentage and .615 slugging mark in the 1945 World Series against the Detroit Tigers. However, Detroit would win the Series in seven games.

Standout Career

In his 20 seasons with the Cubs, Phil helped the franchise to three N.L. pennants and World Series appearances in 1935, 1938 and 1945. He batted .317 in 17 post-season contests, which is second-highest in franchise history behind Stan Hack's .348 mark. His 17 playoff games are ninth-most for a Cubs position player.

Among his other accomplishments, Phil's .355 batting average in 1945 is a club record for a left-handed hitter, and was one of three times he led the team in hitting (also in 1944 and 1947). His 1,304 hits, 241 doubles and 70 triples amassed in the 1940s were decade-highs for the team.

All told, Phil's 1,953 games played for the Cubs ranks sixth in franchise history, while his 99 triples rank fifth. His 794 walks are seventh-most in Cubs history, and his 968 runs scored, 896 RBI and 532 extra-base hits rank 10th in franchise annals.

Cubs in the Community

Team provides support in Chicago and beyond

The Chicago Cubs community efforts reflect an ongoing partnership between the Cubs and the people of Chicago. Our efforts include charitable donations, neighborhood protection activities and year-round community service involvement.

The Cubs support of Chicago Cubs Charities and Cubs Care, a fund of the McCormick Foundation, has resulted in grants totaling more than $15 million since 1991 - including more than $1 million in each of the last six years - to support programs for youth sports, children with special needs, victims of domestic violence and to help social service agencies in the Lakeview community.

Grants distributed in 2010 included more than $600,000 in funding for youth sports programs, such as Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities (RBI), a premier summer league baseball program involving approximately 300 mostly minority youth from disadvantaged areas around Chicago.

Fundraising events for 2011 include:

Cubs Caravan
January 11-12, 2012

Cubs' players, coaches, broadcasters and front office personnel embark on an annual two-day excursion visiting schools, neighborhoods and communities in Illinois and Northwest Indiana.

In 2011, the Cubs Caravan consisted of two tours of Chicago Cubs players, coaches, broadcasters and front office staff combining to visit six cities, five elementary schools, a Boys and Girls Club, Chicago's Northwestern Hospital, USO of Illinois and a charity luncheon benefiting Chicago Cubs Charities. The tour also included a stop at the Peoria Chiefs' charity fan fest.

Cubs Convention
January 13-15, 2012 at the Chicago Hilton

The Cubs Convention is a three-day baseball celebration each winter where fans get a chance to mingle with Chicago Cubs players, alumni, broadcasters, coaches and team officials.

The 2012 Cubs Convention, the team's 27th, includes autograph and photo sessions, question-and-answer seminars and the sale and display of Cubs memorabilia.

Working in the Lakeview Community

The Cubs work hard to communicate with those who live and work in the communities around the ballpark. By participating in our community, talking and listening to our neighbors, actively addressing issues such as traffic, parking and clean streets and by contributing to parks, schools and community needs, the Cubs continue to help make Chicago a thriving city and a great home.

Lending a Helping Hand

Thousands of institutions and organizations each year receive tickets or Cubs memorabilia as charitable contributions for fundraising auctions and raffles. To learn more or make a request, visit www.cubs.com/donations.

Annual events such as Prostate Cancer Foundation Home Run Challenge and Major Leaguers Strike Out Breast Cancer shine a spotlight on diseases affecting thousands of Americans.

Cubs players, coaches and personnel visited the USO of Illinois at the Great Lakes Naval Academy in Great Lakes, Ill., during the 2011 Cubs Caravan. They were presented with a gift from the USO.

Youth and Special Needs Baseball

McCormick Foundation's Cubs Care grants support organizations committed to bringing quality sports programming to the children of Chicago. Each year, more than 13,000 children and young adults participate in sports programs supported by Cubs Care grants.

Programs funded through Cubs Care include:

Rookie League — A partnership with the Chicago Park District, Rookie League is an introductory league for six to nine year olds. The league has grown to 96 locations with 521 teams across Chicago. Each year, more than 8,000 children from neighborhoods throughout the city can participate in the program free of charge.

Inner City Youth Baseball — Inner City Youth Baseball provides recreational activities for more than 260 kids ages nine to 12 who live in Chicago Housing Authority developments and scattered site housing throughout Chicago. The program is operated in partnership with the Chicago Police Department, Chicago Housing Authority and the Chicago Park District. It also helps encourage participation of African Americans in baseball by exposing African American youth to the game.

Reviving Baseball in the Inner Cities (RBI) — The Reviving Baseball in Inner Cities (RBI) program of the Union League Boys & Girls Clubs of Chicago reaches approximately 300 mostly minority teens ages 13 to 18 living in some of the poorest communities in Chicago. Grants typically cover all program costs so the league can provide equipment, uniforms and instruction at no cost to the participants. The Cubs RBI program boasts three players chosen in the 2008 MLB first-year player draft and one selected in the both the 2007 and 2010 MLB first-year player drafts.

Special Recreation Programs

The Chicago Park District's Special Recreation programs are geared towards helping children and adults with special needs. These programs include Beep Baseball for the visually impaired, Buddy Baseball for the physically challenged, Deaf & Hard of Hearing softball for the hearing impaired and Alternative Athletic Conference (AAC) softball for those with learning/behavioral problems.

Wheelchair Cubs

The Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago (RIC) created the RIC Cubs wheelchair softball team to expand athletic opportunities for physically challenged adults. The RIC Cubs are tremendously talented athletes and have won the Wheelchair World Series in 2002, 2004, 2005, 2006 and 2008.

A Cubs Care grant helped create Illinois' first-ever public wheelchair baseball stadium in 2003.

Cubs players and staff pose with school children and members of the Lincoln Library during the 2011 Cubs Caravan.

Reaching Out to the Latino Community

The Cubs are committed to connecting and building a lasting partnership with the Latino community in Chicago. In 2011, more than 40 Cubs games will be broadcast in Spanish on WRTO-AM 1200, and made available on television via SAP. Spanish-language publications and broadcasts, baseball programs and relationships with charitable organizations serving Latino communities throughout the area, and around the world, are growing.

Little Cubs Field, Humboldt Park

The Chicago Cubs partnered with the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago, the Chicago Park District and the Parkways Foundation to construct the $2 million Little Cubs Field in Humboldt Park. Cubs All-Stars Carlos Zambrano and Geovany Soto helped open the facility, along with Alderman Billy Ocasio, Chicago Park District Superintendent Tim Mitchell and local youth baseball players from Humboldt Park.

Geovany Soto held a clinic with kids at Little Cubs Field in 2010.

The design of Little Cubs Field highlights some of the well-known elements of Wrigley Field. The scoreboard is reminiscent of the famed Wrigley Field marquee and seating features covered grandstands with a rooftop like the Friendly Confines.

The Grand Opening of Little Cubs Field took place May 30, 2009 - Cubs pitchers Angel Guzman and Carlos Marmol were on hand for the festivities.

During the 2010 season, Geovany Soto, hosted a baseball clinic at Humboldt Park.

ILAC Centro Educacion para la Salud Integral, Dominican Republic

Chicago Cubs Charities contributed $25,000 in 2010 to fund diabetes research and treatment, support a surgical recovery room in the Dominican Republic and to provide support for schools and education-related facilities.

Tom, Pete and Todd Ricketts visited the facility in January 2011. The donation was matched by the Major League Baseball-Dominican Development Alliance.

LosCubs.com

The Cubs launched a Spanish language Web site in April 2007, Loscubs.com. The site provides Spanish-speaking fans with up-to-date news, team information, game recaps and exclusive player profiles and stories, all in Spanish.

Player Initiatives

Every Cubs player participates in giving back to the community. Whether signing baseballs to be used for fundraising efforts, visiting schools and hospitals throughout Chicagoland or spending time with fans at Wrigley Field, the organization's players have made an impact in the community. Some highlights include:

In 2010, Carlos Zambrano started the Big Z Foundation which aims to help underprivileged families in third world countries and specific Chicago communities. Carlos launched his new foundation with the Fogo de Chao dinner and silent auction event in January.

Aramis Ramirez teamed up with the Chicago Public Library to film a Public Service Announcement in Spanish encouraging kids to read. In combination with the video, posters were made of Aramis for the campaign, also in Spanish.

Starlin Castro was awarded the 2010 State of Illinois Athletic Achievement Award for National Hispanic Heritage Month. This award was presented by Secretary of State Jesse White.

On The Radio

The Chicago Cubs and WRTO-1200 AM partnered to broadcast more than 56 Cubs games in Spanish during the 2009 and 2010 seasons ... Hector Fabregas and Elio Benitez called the action at Wrigley Field.

Pete Ricketts (left), Todd Ricketts and Tom Ricketts help plant a tree outside the ILAC surgical recovery room donated by Chicago Cubs Charities in the Dominican Republic in January of 2011.

RECORD BREAKERS AT THE GATES

In 2008, the Chicago Cubs set a single-season attendance record by drawing 3,300,200 fans at Wrigley Field, eclipsing the previous record mark of 3,252,462 set in 2007.

In addition to setting a Wrigley Field record, the 3,300,200 is the largest single-season attendance mark for any franchise or venue in the history of the city of Chicago.

The Cubs reached three million fans on September 2, faster than any other season in franchise history, as that night's crowd of 39,846 vs. the Houston Astros brought the Cubs and Wrigley Field beyond the three million mark in the club's 74th home date of 2008, surpassing the previous record of 75 home dates to three million fans in 2007.

The Cubs have had three million fans in home attendance in each of the last seven seasons starting in 2004 when the club reached the mark for the first time.

The Cubs are one of only five teams in Major League Baseball to reach three million fans in each of the last seven seasons starting in 2004, joining the Dodgers, Yankees, Angels and Cardinals.

QUITE A DEBUT

May 7, 2010 in Cincinnati, Starlin Castro became the sixth player in franchise history to hit a home run in his first big league at-bat, the first since pitcher Jim Bullinger did so, June 8, 1992, off Rheal Cormier ... the previous position player to do so was Carmelo Martinez, August 22, 1983, vs. Cincinnati at Wrigley Field, a solo shot off Frank Pastore.

- Joining Castro, Bullinger and Martinez in Cubs lore: Cuno Barragan (June 1, 1961 vs. San Francisco), Frank Ernaga (May 24, 1957 vs. Milwaukee) and Paul Gillespie (September 11, 1942 at New York Giants).

- Castro became the first player in MLB history to drive in six runs in his first career game ... only four players had recorded as many as five RBI in their first big league game dating to 1920, most recently done by Oakland's Ben Grieve on September 3, 1997 vs. San Francisco.
- Castro is only the fifth player in the last 100 years to hit a homer and triple in his major league debut, joining Ken Caminiti (1987), Frank Ernaga (with the Cubs in 1957), Lloyd Merriman (1949) and Hank Arft (1948) ... thanks to Elias.

RUNS SCORED — AND RUNS ALLOWED

The Cubs mark for scoring in consecutive games is 127, set from June 15, 1958-May 13, 1959. The team record for scoring in consecutive contests in one season is 109, set in 1943 (May 23-September 18).

The longest streak for Cubs pitchers without hurling a shutout is 106 games, set in 1901 (May 18-September 20).

On June 29, 1897, the Cubs scored at least one run in every inning in a 36-7 victory at Louisville. That was the only time in club history that the team scored at least one run in every frame. The last time the Cubs surrendered at least one run in every inning took place May 5, 1999, vs. Colorado at Wrigley Field.

Since 1900, the Cubs have thrown three consecutive shutouts seven times, with the last occurrence taking place July 21-July 24, 1992 – when the Cubs won 1-0 and 3-0 at Cincinnati and 1-0 at Houston.

The last time the Cubs threw shutouts in both games of a doubleheader occurred July 11, 1965, vs. St. Louis at Wrigley Field (identical 6-0 scores).

The Cubs were held scoreless in a National League-record 48 consecutive innings June 15-June 21, 1968. The club was blanked in four straight games June 16-June 20.

The last time the Cubs allowed three or fewer runs in every game of a three-game series was September 17-19, 2010 at Florida – Chicago swept the Marlins by scores of 2-0, 5-3 and 13-3. In fact, that was part of an 11-game stretch in which Cubs pitchers allowed three or less runs in each contest from September 10-22.

The last time the Cubs allowed fewer than three runs during a Wrigley Field three-game set occurred May 26-28, 2008 vs. Los Angeles (N.L.) (3-1, 3-1, 2-1 (10)).

From July 5-July 7, 2001, the Cubs scored 38 runs over a three-game span – winning by scores of 13-4 at New York and 15-9 and 10-6 at Detroit. Over the three-game span, the Cubs recorded 50 hits – including 21 for extra bases (12 doubles, four triples, five homers).

In 1930, the Cubs established a team record by reaching the 10-runs plateau in five-straight games June 1-June 6. During that stretch – the only time in club history that the team had a double-digit runs streak surpassing three games – the Cubs defeated Pittsburgh 16-4 on June 1 at Wrigley Field before going on a road trip. They swept the Boston Braves over a three-game span June 3-June 5 by scores of 15-2, 18-10 and 10-7, then went to Brooklyn and beat the Dodgers 13-0 on June 6.

During a 20-1 victory over Los Angeles (N.L.) May 5, 2001, the Cubs scored eight times during both the seventh and eighth innings. This was only the fifth time in major league history that a team plated at least eight runs in consecutive frames. The list:

April 30, 1887: St. Louis (N.L.) vs. Cleveland.....nine in fifth, eight in sixth
June 16, 1887: Philadelphia (N.L.) vs. Washington.....eight in seventh, eight in eighth
May 2, 1901: Boston (A.L.) vs. Philadelphia.....nine in second, 10 in third
July 29, 1928: Cleveland vs. New York.....eight in first, nine in second
May 5, 2001: CUBS vs. Los Angeles.....eight in seventh, eight in eighth

TRIPLE PLAYS – LAST TIME IT HAPPENED

The Cubs have been involved in 76 triple plays since 1876, turning 40 and hitting into 36. The Cubs have hit into the last three triple plays they've been involved in (most recently May 14, 2000, at Montreal).

On May 10, 1997, in San Francisco, the Cubs turned their last triple play. The Giants' Stan Javier faced Amaury Telemaco in the fifth inning with Kirk Rueter on second base and Darryl Hamilton on first. Javier hit a fly ball to short center field, with second base umpire Bob Davidson invoking the infield fly rule. The ball dropped in, and both baserunners were thrown out attempting to advance (center fielder Brian McRae to third baseman Jose Hernandez to second baseman Ryne Sandberg).

The last triple play turned at Wrigley Field was by San Francisco on May 8, 1998 (first baseman Charlie Hayes to shortstop Rich Aurilia). The last time the Cubs turned a triple play at The Friendly Confines occurred June 2, 1983, vs. Pittsburgh – when Pirates pitcher Rick Rhoden hit into an around-the-horn triple killing (third baseman Ron Cey to second baseman Ryne Sandberg to first baseman Bill Buckner).

On May 30, 1927, shortstop Jimmy Cooney turned the only unassisted triple play in Cubs history. In the fourth inning of the Cubs' game in Pittsburgh, Cooney caught Paul Waner's line drive, stepped on second base to retire Lloyd Waner, then tagged Clyde Barnhart off first.

GARZA'S NO-HIT EFFORT

Matt Garza's no-hitter, July 26, 2010, vs. Detroit, made him only the third pitcher in the last 45 years to face the minimum 27 batters in a no-hitter that was not a perfect game, joining Philadelphia's Terry Mulholland in 1990 and the White Sox Mark Buehrle in 2007 ... other notes from Garza's no-hitter:

- It was the fifth, and final, no-hitter in 2010 - that was the most in one season since 1991, when seven were thrown.
- Garza's no-hitter came just 31 days (and 10 home games after) Arizona's Edwin Jackson threw the first no-hitter in Tropicana Field history ... prior to that, 1,006 games had been played at the Trop without a no-hitter.
- Opposing starter, Detroit's Max Scherzer, held the Rays hitless until there were two outs in the bottom of the sixth, when Matt Joyce hit a grand slam ... just six weeks before on June 13 at Wrigley Field, neither the White Sox Gavin Floyd nor the Cubs Ted Lilly allowed a hit until the bottom of the seventh.
- Prior to Garza, the longest no-hit bids in Tampa Bay history were 7.2 innings, by Dewon Brazelton (June 25, 2004 vs. Florida) and Tony Saunders (April 22, 1999 vs. Baltimore).

32 IS THE MAGIC NUMBER

The Cubs have had four starting pitchers make 32 or more starts in a season just three times since 1901. Most recently, the 2007 squad accomplished the feat when Ted Lilly and Carlos Zambrano made 34 starts apiece while Jason Marquis started 33 games and Rich Hill started 32 contests.

Prior to 2007, the last time Chicago had four starters with at least 32 outings apiece was in 1977 when Ray Burris (39), Rick Reuschel (37), Bill Bonham (34) and Mike Krukow (33) turned the trick. In 1975, Reuschel (37), Bonham (36), Burris (35) and Steve Stone (32) teamed up to accomplish the feat.

DOUBLE DOWN

The Cubs hit a club-record 340 doubles in a season twice in club annals – 1931 and 2007. In 2007, the club averaged 2.1 doubles per contest while the 1931 squad averaged 2.2 doubles over the 154-game schedule.

In 2008, three Cubs – Aramis Ramirez (44 doubles), Derrek Lee (41) and Geovany Soto (35) – had 35 or more doubles. It marked the ninth time since 1901 that three Cubs amassed 35 or more doubles in the same season. The 120 doubles between them was tied for the third-highest total of any Cubs threesome (in 2007, Derrek Lee had 43, Alfonso Soriano had 42 and Aramis Ramirez had 35), and the most since the 1932 trio of Riggs Stephenson (49), Charlie Grimm (42) and Billy Herman (42) collected a club-record 133 doubles. In 1930, Kiki Cuyler (50), Woody English (36) and Hack Wilson (35) combined for 121 doubles.

Chicago has reached 300 doubles in a season nine times, including five of the last eight seasons entering the 2011 campaign.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team. In 2010, Sean Marshall was recognized as the Cubs recipient for this award.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was named to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash in 1972 delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua. The award, sponsored by John Hancock Financial Services, recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig, annually selects the winner from a list of 30 candidates, one from each Major League Baseball Club. These local winners are announced in September during Roberto Clemente Day. The winner of the national Roberto Clemente Award is announced during a pre-game ceremony at the World Series. Past winners include Craig Biggio, Jamie Moyer, Jim Thome, Curt Schilling, Al Leiter, Tony Gwynn, Willie Mays, Ozzie Smith, Cal Ripken, Jr., Albert Pujols and Derek Jeter.

SAVE RULE

Rule 10.20 tells the official scorer to credit a pitcher with a save when:
(1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and; (2) he is not the winning pitcher, and; (3) he qualifies under the following conditions: (a) he enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least 1.0 inning, or; (b) he enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck, or; (c) he pitches effectively for at least 3.0 innings.

When a relief pitcher enters a game in a save situation and departs or the game ends with the save situation no longer in effect because he has given up the lead, he is charged with a "blown save." If the save opportunity still exists when he leaves the game, he is not charged with a save opportunity.

If the pitcher has not given up the lead when he leaves the game, though the save opportunity may no longer exist because of added runs scored by his own team, he is not charged with a save opportunity.

  - Due to the muscle strain, he hit left-handed in his August 22 and August 27 starts.

1999: Missed the entire season after undergoing surgery to repair the torn ulnar collateral ligament in his right elbow (April 8, Dr. James Andrews) ... did not throw off a mound again until December 20 at the Cubs' Mesa, Ariz., minor league complex.

- On May 6 in just his fifth big league start, he fanned 20 Houston Astros and allowed just one hit in a complete-game 2-0 win ... allowed a third-inning single to Ricky Gutierrez and hit Craig Biggio with a pitch in the sixth, earning N.L. Player of the Week honors for May 4-May 10.
- In a 9-4 victory over Philadelphia June 20, he hit his first big league homer (off Matt Beech).
- Set the Cubs 20th-century single-season rookie strikeout record in his final start of the season August 31 vs. Cincinnati, fanning Brett Tomko for strikeout No. 226 ... two innings later, he hit a two-run homer off Tomko.
- Missed the last month of the regular season due to a sprained ulnar collateral ligament in his right elbow.
- Returned to the mound in the Division Series, as he started Game Three against Atlanta ... took the loss (6-2), allowing one run and three hits in 5.0 innings.

KKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKKK

On May 6, 1998, in just his fifth big league start, Kerry Wood fanned 20 Houston Astros and allowed just one base hit in a complete-game 2-0 win at Wrigley Field ... allowed only two baserunners, giving up a single to Ricky Gutierrez in the third inning and hitting Craig Biggio in the sixth.

The 20 strikeouts:

- Tied the major league record for a nine-inning game set by Boston's Roger Clemens (April 29, 1986, and September 18, 1996).
- Eclipsed the National League record of 19 reached by Providence's Charlie Sweeney (June 7, 1884), St. Louis' Steve Carlton (September 15, 1969), New York's Tom Seaver (April 22, 1970) and New York's David Cone (October 6, 1991).
- Exceeded the M.L. rookie record of 18 strikeouts, which had been reached by the Philadelphia Athletics' Jack Coombs on September 1, 1906, and by Montreal's Bill Gullickson (against the Cubs) on September 10, 1980.
- Surpassed the Cubs mark of 17, set by Jack Pfiester in a 15-inning outing May 30, 1906, vs. St. Louis.

His inning-by-inning strikeouts:

- First inning – Craig Biggio (swinging), Derek Bell (swinging), Jeff Bagwell (called)
- Second – Jack Howell (swinging), Moises Alou (swinging)
- Third – Brad Ausmus (swinging)
- Fourth – Bagwell (called), Howell (called)
- Fifth – Alou (called), Dave Clark (called), Ricky Gutierrez (called)
- Sixth – Shane Reynolds (called)
- Seventh – Bagwell (swinging), Howell (swinging), Alou (swinging)
- Eighth – Clark (swinging), Gutierrez (swinging), Ausmus (called)
- Ninth – Bill Spiers (swinging), Bell (swinging)

Kerry opened the game with five straight strikeouts and later had stretches in which he fanned five in a row and seven in a row.

Became just the second pitcher in M.L. history to strike out as many batters as his age ... 17-year-old Cleveland Indians rookie Bob Feller fanned 17 Philadelphia Athletics batters on September 13, 1936.

YOU CAN COME HOME AGAIN

Of the more than 1,800 players who have appeared in at least one game for the Cubs, six have had 10-plus year interruptions in their time with the club:

13 years: Roger Bresnahan (1900 ... 1913-1915) and Johnny Moore (1928-1929, 1931-1932 ... 1945)
12 years: Larry Gura (1970-1973 ... 1985) and Dave Martinez (1986-1988 ... 2000)
11 years: Greg Maddux (1986-1992 ... 2004-2006)
10 years: Lonny Frey (1937 ... 1947)

The longest span between homers for the team belongs to Billy Jurges, who went nine years, 22 days between Cubs homers August 2, 1938, through August 24, 1947 (both homers were hit at the Polo Grounds). Jurges was a Cub from 1931-1938 and in 1946-1947.

IF AT FIRST ...

On June 29, 1937, Cubs first baseman Jimmy Collins set a National League record by not having any fielding chances in the Cubs' 11-9 victory over the Cardinals in St. Louis. Left fielder Augie Galan and catcher Gabby Hartnett each had eight of the Cubs' 27 putouts, followed by second baseman Billy Herman (4), shortstop Billy Jurges (3), center fielder Joe Marty (2), starting right fielder Frank Demaree (1) and substitute right fielder Phil Cavarretta (1). Herman had both Cubs assists in the game on force plays at second base.

The only other N.L. first baseman to accomplish that feat was the Cubs' Fred McGriff – on August 15, 2002, vs. Houston. Catchers Todd Hundley (14) and Joe Girardi (3) recorded 17 of the club's 27 putouts via the strikeout route. Shortstop Alex Gonzalez had the Cubs' only assist on a ninth-inning ground out.

YOUNG AT HEART

The oldest player to play for the Cubs was Hoyt Wilhelm. Born in 1923, Wilhelm joined the Cubs in September 1970 — two months after his 47th birthday — and pitched in three games with the club.

The only players in their 40s to make Opening Day starts for the Cubs were first baseman Cap Anson (final season-opening start in 1895 at the age of 43), pitcher Dutch Leonard (40 in 1949) and third baseman Gary Gaetti (40 in 1999).

THE SANDBERG GAME

On June 23, 1984, Ryne Sandberg went 5-for-6 with two late-inning dramatic homers and seven RBI in the Cubs' 11-inning 12-11 victory over St. Louis.

Sandberg hit a solo homer off the Cardinals' Bruce Sutter in the bottom of the ninth inning to knot the game at 9-9. Then, after St. Louis tallied twice in the top of the 10th, Sandberg once again knotted the game — this time with a two-run shot off Sutter. Following his game-tying homers, the Cubs won it on Dave Owen's RBI single.

"The Sandberg Game" overshadowed the performance of the Cardinals' Willie McGee, who hit for the cycle.

BEAR CUBS

The greatest number of players to make their major league debuts in one season for the Cubs is 20 – in 1902. The high number of youngsters that season was one of the primary reasons why the club was nicknamed the "Cubs." With the raid of National League players by American League teams, many N.L. clubs stocked their spring training rosters with young, unproven players. The Chicago Daily News, noting all the youngsters in the Chicago camp, used the nickname "Cubs" for the first time in its March 27, 1902 edition.

1-0 ... 1-0 ... 1-0 ... 1-0

In 1906, the Cubs participated in four-consecutive 1-0 contests. The Cubs beat Cincinnati 1-0 July 1 at Chicago's West Side Grounds, then fell the next day by the same score. The club then swept an Independence Day doubleheader at Pittsburgh by identical 1-0 scores.

That was part of the Cubs' 1906 club-record stretch of playing nine straight one-run contests June 24-July 4.

KEEPING THE ROTATION TOGETHER

The Cubs utilized as few as seven starters in a campaign as recently as 2004, when the only pitchers to start for the club were Matt Clement, Greg Maddux, Sergio Mitre, Mark Prior, Glendon Rusch, Kerry Wood and Carlos Zambrano.

Since 1900, the club mark for fewest starters in a season is six – set in 1901. During the 19th century, the team utilized as few as two starters in four seasons, most recently during a 98-game 1883 campaign (Larry Corcoran 53 starts, Fred Goldsmith 45 starts).

THE FRIENDLY CONFINES OF WRIGLEY FIELD

Entering the 2011 campaign, there have been 12,082 home runs hit at Wrigley Field – 6,074 by the Cubs, 5,926 by their opponents and 82 by Federal League clubs (1914-1915).

The ballpark's single-season homer high is 233, recorded in 2004 (137 by the Cubs). The Cubs' top Wrigley Field homer total is 137, also in 2004. Opponents hit 125 long balls at Wrigley Field in 2006, their most of any season.

GOING DEEP AGAIN AND AGAIN

The Cubs homered 15 times over a three-game period August 10-August 12, 2002, hitting six homers August 10 at Colorado's Coors Field, five on August 11 at Coors Field and four on August 12 at Wrigley Field.

The 15 homers tied a National League three-game mark accomplished three previous times – most recently by Cincinnati in 1999 (September 4-September 6).

2010 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

FINAL STANDINGS: The Cubs finished the 2010 regular season with a 75-87 record, fifth in the N.L. Central Division, 16-games behind the Cincinnati Reds ... Chicago was as high as second in the division on May 4 with a 13-14 record.

© Chicago's largest deficit was 21.5-games on September 2.

© The Cubs previously finished fifth or lower in the division in 2006, when a 66-96 record placed them sixth in the N.L. Central.

ABOUT THE SEASON: Chicago sat at a season-high .500 mark four times on the season: 4-4, 5-5, 10-10 and 13-13 (following play on May 2) ... it marked the first time Chicago did not reach at least one-game over .500 in a season since 2002.

© Chicago had a season-high, six-game winning streak, September 13-19 ... the team had a season-long, seven-game losing streak, July 27-August 3.

INSIDE THE NUMBERS: The Cubs played 54 one-run games, tied for fifth-most in the majors ... the team was 22-32 (.407) in those contests - the 32 one-run losses were most in the majors, and the .407 winning percentage was second-to-last, ahead of Detroit (.381).

© Of Chicago's 162 games played, 83 were decided by two or fewer runs with the team going 37-46 in those contests.

© After finishing the first half of the season with a 39-50 record, Chicago went 36-37 after the All-Star break.

© The Cubs were 49-59 against right-handed starting pitchers and 26-28 against left-handed starters.

TURNING THINGS AROUND: Chicago went 19-10 in the final month of the season (including 2-1 in October), giving the club its first winning month of the season ... it was the first time in 117 years the Cubs managed a winning record in the season's final month after recording sub-.500 marks in every other month.

© The only other time the franchise accomplished this feat was way back in 1893 ... after logging a losing record in each of the first four months that season, the Cubs went 13-8 in September for its first winning month.

QUADE'S MANAGERIAL DEBUT: Mike Quade became the 51st manager of the Cubs August 23, making him the sixth Cubs manager born in Illinois, joining Albert Spalding (1876-77), Hank O'Day (1914), Phil Cavarretta (1951-53), Lou Boudreau (1960) and Jim Marshall (1974-76) ... this list excludes the Cubs' "College of Coaches," used from 1961-65.

© Quade began his managerial career with a 17-8 record in his first 25 games, the best start by a Cubs manager since Charlie Grimm in 1932 - Grimm went 20-5 in his first 25 games after replacing Rogers Hornsby.

SWEET LOU: Lou Piniella retired following August 22's game vs. Atlanta ... he finished his 23-year managerial career with a 1,835-1,713 (.517) all-time record, including a 316-293 mark (.519) in three-plus seasons with the Cubs ... his 1,835 victories rank 14th all-time in major league history while his 316 Cubs wins rank eighth in franchise annals ... with N.L. Central titles in 2007 and 2008, Piniella was the first manager to lead the Cubs to consecutive post-season berths since Frank Chance in 1906-08.

© May 16th vs. Pittsburgh, Cubs skipper Lou Piniella recorded his 1,800th major league managerial victory ... he became the 14th manager in the history of baseball to reach the milestone.

YOUNG GUNS: Chicago used 18 rookies in 2010, including 12 pitchers ... of the 18 rookies utilized, 11 made their major league debut: pitchers Andrew Cashner, Casey Coleman, Thomas Diamond, Scott Maine, Marcos Mateo, James Russell and Brian Schlitter; catcher Welington Castillo; infielders Darwin Barney and Starlin Castro, and outfielder Brad Snyder.

QUITE A TRIP: The Cubs went 8-1 (.889) during a nine-game trip to Milwaukee (2-1), St. Louis (3-0) and Florida (3-0), September 10-19 ... it was the team's most successful trip of at least nine games in franchise history (thanks to Elias).

LEADING MEN: The Cubs held a lead in each of the first 10 games of the season, something the club had not done in 72 years ... the team last had a longer streak to start the season in 1938, leading its first 19 games of the season.

THIS STREAK IS WAY BACK...: The Cubs homered in a franchise-record 20-consecutive games against the Astros from September 14, 2008 through April 16, 2010 ... the last big league club to own a longer homer streak against one club is the Philadelphia Phillies – they went deep in 22-straight games against the Milwaukee Brewers from May 17, 2006-September 24, 2009.

QUALITY EFFORTS: Chicago's starting pitchers led the N.L. and were second in the majors with 96 quality starts ... Oakland led the majors with 103 quality efforts.

© The 96 quality starts were Chicago's most since recording 100 in 2003.

START ME UP: Cubs starters went 10-straight games allowing two or fewer earned runs, April 16-25, logging a 1.74 ERA (12 ER/62.0 IP) in that stretch ... Chicago's starters had previously gone 10-consecutive contests with two or fewer earned runs, April 10-22, 2001, during an 11-game stretch.

GOOSE EGGS: With 14 shutouts in 2010, Cubs pitchers recorded their most shutouts since blanking the opponent 14 times in 2003 ... the team's hitters were shut out 15 times, the most since being blanked 15 times in 2006.

© Chicago's hurlers recorded the 14 shutouts without a complete-game effort, a franchise record.

© Of the team's final 23 games dating to September 8, 13 of them resulted in a shutout ... Chicago's final seven-game trip on the season resulted in five shutouts, with the Cubs going 3-2 in those games.

SCORELESS STREAKS: Chicago's bullpen closed the season with a 28.0-inning scoreless streak dating to the ninth inning September 23 vs. the Giants ... it was the bullpen's longest scoreless innings streak since a 29.1-inning run, August 13-17, 1982.

© Cubs pitching logged 27.0-consecutive scoreless innings before allowing three runs in October 2's seventh inning at Houston ... that was the team's longest streak since a 28.0-inning run, June 25-29, 2005.

LEADING SWEEP: In their three-game sweep of Milwaukee, April 23-25, the Cubs did not trail in any of the games ... the club previously enjoyed a three-game sweep in which it either led or was tied for every inning of the series September 7-9, 2009, during a three-game sweep in Pittsburgh (thanks to Elias Sports Bureau).

REACHING 300: Derrek Lee and Alfonso Soriano hit their 300th career home runs just two days apart ... Lee hit his 300th career blast June 9 in Milwaukee off Randy Wolf while Soriano belted his June 11 vs. the White Sox off Jake Peavy.

© Lee and Soriano became the 126th and 127th players in big league history to join the 300 home run club ... nine players have now hit their 300 home run as a Cub – the 2010 duo was the first to do so since Sammy Sosa, June 26, 1999 vs. Philadelphia's Robert Person.

BACK SO SOON?: Randy Wells took the mound May 31 in Pittsburgh on just two days rest after his start May 28 vs. St. Louis lasted 16 pitches (six batters faced, six hits) ... Wells became the first Cubs pitcher in almost 20 years to make a pair of starts in a roughly 72-hour span ... the previous Cubs starter to do so was Mike Bielecki, who made a start on June 12, 1990 against the Mets (1.1 IP) and another start on June 15 against the Phillies (7.0 IP).

© In addition to Wells and Bielecki, only three other Cubs pitchers have made two starts in this span of time in the last 30 seasons: Greg Maddux (July 7 and 10, 1987), Scott Sanderson (May 18 and 20, 1986) and Doug Bird (September 27 and 30, 1981) ... thanks to Ed Hartig for his research assistance.

CUBS HIT 20,000 GAMES: June 26 at the White Sox, the Cubs became the first franchise to play 20,000 regular season games ... the organization owned a 10,197-9,643 (.514) all-time record with 160 ties and no-decisions in its first 20,000 games since its inception in 1876.

© In their first 20,000 games, the Cubs and their opponents scored 181,642 runs ... just counting the 360-feet covered by runners who scored, that totals over 12,300 miles – equivalent to over 1.5 trips around the Earth at the equator.

FUTURE FUN: The Cubs had two players and two minor league managers participate in the 2010 XM All-Star Futures Game, Tuesday, July 13 at Angel Stadium ... Peoria infielder Hak-Ju Lee played for the World Team while Daytona outfielder Brett Jackson was part of the U.S. squad.

© Triple-A Iowa manager Ryne Sandberg was a coach on the World Team while Double-A Tennessee manager Bill Dancy was a coach on the U.S. Team.

HE'S A SAVIOR: Closer Carlos Marmol saved over half of Chicago's 75 victories in 2010 (38 saves) ... the Cubs previously had a closer turn the trick in 1998, when Rod Beck recorded a save in 51 of the team's 90 wins.

© Marmol set a major league record, averaging 15.99 strikeouts per 9.0 innings pitched ... that surpassed Eric Gagne's 14.98 mark in 2003 for the highest rate by a reliever.

CASTRO CRACKS TOP-10: Starlin Castro finished his rookie season with a .300 batting average, 10th-best among National League qualifiers ... he became the first Cubs rookie to bat at least .300 and finish in the top-10 among N.L. qualifiers since Bill Madlock hit .313 in 1974 to finish fifth in the Senior Circuit.

© Castro's .300 batting average was third among N.L. rookies behind Houston's Chris Johnson (.308) and San Francisco's Buster Posey (.305).

© Castro's 39 multi-hit games, 31 doubles and five triples all ranked third among N.L. rookies ... his 139 hits ranked fourth.

SIX HITLESS INNINGS: Randy Wells had a no-hitter through six innings July 3 vs. the Reds ... Ted Lilly went eight innings without allowing a hit vs. the White Sox, June 13 ... according to Elias, it's the first time since 2004 that two Cubs starting pitchers reached the seventh inning without allowing a hit in games played at Wrigley Field in the same season.

© In 2004, Matt Clement went 6.1 innings without allowing a hit against the Mets, April 25 (Karim Garcia broke it up with a home run), and Carlos Zambrano also went 6.1 without allowing a hit against the Brewers, August 23 (broken up by a Geoff Jenkins double).

SEASON ACHIEVEMENTS: Aramis Ramirez reached 25 home runs for the sixth time in his Cubs career, and is one of six players to have six or more 25-home run seasons with Chicago ... he joined Sammy Sosa (12 times), Billy Williams (10), Ernie Banks (10), Ron Santo (8) and Ryne Sandberg (6).

© Alfonso Soriano reached 40 doubles, giving him five seasons with 40 or more two baggers (2002, 2005-07, 2010).

© Carlos Zambrano allowed two or fewer earned runs in his final 11 starts of the season ... Elias reports that ties the club record since 1912, done seven other times - the previous pitcher to do so in a single-season was Rick Reuschel in 1977.

CHARITABLE CUBS: Chicago Cubs Charities and the McCormick Foundation, through its fund Cubs Care, together granted more than $1.4 million to Chicago non-profit organizations in 2010.

© The 2010 grants included $274,000 to the Chicago Park District to provide funding for more than 9,500 low-income and special needs youth to play baseball this summer.

© As part of the Ricketts' family mission to participate in the lives of those in the community and to be good neighbors, the Chicago Cubs community efforts reflect an on-going partnership between the Cubs and the people of Chicago ... these efforts include charitable donations, neighborhood protection activities and year-round community service involvement.

© Chicago Cubs players and coaches visited four hospitals, 11 schools and took part in 18 on-field clinics for charitable purposes ... this participation in the community included youth clinics for wheelchair softball with Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago and inner city youth at Wrigley Field and Little Cubs Field at Humboldt Park, visits to Children's Memorial Hospital, Northwestern Memorial Hospital, Blaine Elementary, Hawthorne Scholastic Academy, Lincoln Park High School, Kenwood Academy, ticket donations for low-income youth groups, and fundraising events to benefit the National Wildlife Federation for gulf coast relief efforts, Children's Memorial Hospital, Dempster Family Foundation and Loyola Medical for a medical mission trip to the Dominican Republic.

© The Cubs donated more than 28,000 tickets to nearly 200 community organizations throughout the year ... during Hope Week, the Cubs welcomed more than 9,000 to Wrigley Field.

© The Cubs donated more than 4,200 items to charities for fundraising auctions and raffles.

© Cubs associates participated in more than 100 meetings of community organizations and serve on the boards of neighborhood associations, chambers of commerce and non-profit groups.

© Cubs fundraising events and donations raised more than $1 million in 2010. The annual Race to Wrigley had more than 8,000 runners and the inaugural Wrigley Field Road Tour raised $150,000 for Chicago Cubs Charities ... other events included: Cubs Convention, Wrigley Field Tours, MLB online auctions, "Meet the Team, Have a Ball", "Hey Dad, Wanna Have a Catch?" and 50/50 Raffle.

A GRAND TIME WAS HAD BY ALL

The Cubs have hit 291 grand slams in franchise history, including three in 2010, five in 2009 and seven in 2008.

The Cubs record for grand slams in a season is nine, recorded in 1929 by Hack Wilson (2), Rogers Hornsby (2), Charlie Grimm (2), Riggs Stephenson, Norman McMillan and Kiki Cuyler. McMillan's roundtripper was of the inside-the-park variety.

The club's first grand slam was hit by pitcher Larry Corcoran on June 20, 1882, off Worcester's Lee Richmond at Chicago's Lakefront Park.

The only Cubs to hit more than two grand slams in one season are Ernie Banks (5 in 1955), Wildfire Schulte (4 in 1911) and Sammy Sosa (3 in 1998). Sosa hit grand slams in back-to-back games July 27-July 28 of that season, becoming the first Cub to accomplish that feat.

On June 3, 1987, the Cubs and Houston Astros combined to hit three grand slams – tying a major league single-game record. Two Cubs hit bases-loaded roundtrippers – Brian Dayett (off Bob Knepper) and Keith Moreland (off Julio Solano). Houston's Billy Hatcher hit a grand slam in the contest off Rick Sutcliffe.

On August 16, 1890, Chicago batters Tom Burns and Malachi Kittridge both connected for fifth-inning grand slams off Pittsburgh's Bill Phillips – for the franchise's only multiple grand slam inning.

PITCH OUTS

The Cubs set a team mark in 1999 by utilizing 25 different pitchers.

The club mark for most left-handed pitchers to see mound action in a season is 10 – a figure reached in both 1999 and 2000. Prior to the 1999 campaign, the team record of eight had stood since 1966.

The team mark for most strikeouts by a reliever is 11, set by Dave Hillman during a 7.2-inning relief stint May 28, 1959, against Los Angeles.

The last Cubs position player to take the mound for the Cubs was third baseman Gary Gaetti, who saw relief action July 3, 1999, at Philadelphia.

Since the advent of divisional play in 1969, the only Cub to record a save in his major league debut was Todd Wellemeyer (May 15, 2003, at Milwaukee).

The last Cubs rookie to hurl back-to-back complete games was Rich Hill in 2006 (September 16 vs. Cincinnati, September 22 at Cincinnati).

Hill finished with two complete games in 2006, making him the first Cubs rookie with more than one complete game in a season since Frank Castillo tossed four in 1991.

The best career start recordwise for a Cubs pitcher is 8-0, recorded by King Cole in 1910. The worst start belongs to Jim Brewer, who began his Cubs career 0-8 in 1961.

On July 17, 1918, Lefty Tyler pitched a Cubs-record 21 innings in a route-going 2-1 win against Philadelphia. He gave up 13 hits and one walk while striking out eight.

Three years earlier, on June 17, 1915, reliever George "Zip" Zabel was called into a game against Brooklyn with two out in the top of the 1st inning at West Side Grounds. He had to pitch 18.1 innings before earning the win, as the Cubs won 4-3 in the 19th inning.

The Cubs' top single-season pitchers' batting marks for:

HOOTON HOLLERIN'

The only Cubs draft selection to make his professional debut with the major league club was Burt Hooton – the club's 1st-round pick (and second overall selection) in the secondary phase of the June 1971 draft. Hooton made his debut on June 17, 1971, vs. Steve Carlton and the St. Louis Cardinals (and did not figure in the decision in the Cubs' 7-6 win) before being sent to the minors.

SEEING DOUBLE

Since the advent of divisional play in 1969, the Cubs have only had one instance in which starting pitchers struck out 10 batters in three straight games. From May 11-13, 1969, Ken Holtzman (vs. San Francisco), Fergie Jenkins (vs. San Diego) and Dick Selma (vs. San Diego) all went the distance – and struck out 10 batters apiece – in consecutive Wrigley Field affairs.

HAMMERIN' HURLERS

Since 1900, there have been two campaigns in which five Cubs pitchers homered in the same year – in 1937 and 1941. The "hammerin' hurlers":

1937: Roy Parmelee 2, Clay Bryant 1, Curt Davis 1, Bill Lee 1, Charlie Root 1.
1941: Claude Passeau 3, Bill Lee 2, Paul Erickson 1, Vern Olsen 1, Charlie Root 1.

Since 1900, the most home runs hit by Cub pitchers in a season is nine – in 1961 (Don Cardwell 3, Bob Anderson 2, Jack Curtis 2, Glen Hobbie 2).

Carlos Zambrano (20) has hit more homers than any other pitcher in Cubs history – ahead of Fergie Jenkins (13), Claude Passeau (12) and Charlie Root (11). Six other hurlers went deep at least six times.

The Cubs played 5,717 contests between Milt Pappas' near-perfect game in 1972 and Carlos Zambrano's no-hitter in 2008. Over that stretch, Cubs pitchers threw 21 one-hitters, with the last one taking place September 29, 2007, against the Reds in Cincinnati – when Rich Hill (6.0 IP), Sean Marshall (2.0 IP) and Scott Eyre (1.0 IP) combined on a one-hitter at Great American Ball Park.

Entering 2011, the Cubs have gone a Major League record 45 full seasons since they were last no-hit, surpassing the mark set by the St. Louis Cardinals from 1920 to 1959. According to the Sporting News Complete Baseball Record Book, the American League record is 44 years, accomplished by the New York Yankees from 1959 to 2002.

Entering this campaign, the Cubs have played 7,177 games since they were no-hit by Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax in 1965 (a span of just over 45 years). Since Koufax's perfect game, the Cubs have had 21 one-hitters tossed against them, with the last one occurring August 21, 2009 – when Los Angeles' Randy Wolf, George Sherrill and Jonathan Broxton combined to accomplish the feat at Dodger Stadium (Ryan Theriot singled to left in the third inning for the Cubs' lone knock). The last pitcher to take a no-hitter into the 9th inning against the Cubs was Florida's Alex Fernandez – on April 10, 1997, at Wrigley Field (broken up by a Dave Hansen single).

HISTORICAL INFORMATION

Highlights In Cubs History

1876: The first game in the history of the Chicago National League franchise took place April 25, as Albert Spalding pitched the first N.L. shutout in the Chicago White Stockings' 4-0 win at Louisville ... Spalding also had the first hit in franchise history, while center fielder Paul Hines scored the first run on a throwing error in the second inning.

© The first home run in N.L. history was hit by the White Stockings' Ross Barnes on May 2 in a 15-9 victory in Cincinnati.

© The creation of the N.L. was credited largely to William A. Hulbert, who held the dual role of league president and Chicago president until 1882 ... with the assistance of manager Albert Spalding, Hulbert drafted the N.L. constitution and by-laws in 1875.

© Of the eight original charter members of the National League, only the Cubs have operated continuously in the same city.

1880: The North Siders won 21-straight games, June 2-July 8, including one tie (June 4).

1883: Chicago set major league records when it scored 18 runs and collected 18 hits in September 6's seventh frame ... the Cubs went on to beat Detroit 26-6.

1903: In October, the Cubs and White Sox held the first of the semi-annual "City Series" ... at points from 1903-1942, the two teams met following the regular season for a crosstown set as long as neither team made the Fall Classic.

© In the inaugural year, the Chicago teams ended with seven wins apiece ... what would have been the deciding game was cancelled due to weather.

1906: The Chicago club went 116-36 in setting major league records for wins in a season and winning percentage (.763).

© The Cubs and White Sox met in the first and only all-Chicago Fall Classic ... it also marked the first time two teams from the same city met in the World Series ... the Cubs fell to the White Sox, four games to two.

1907: "Cubs" was officially adopted as the nickname of the team ... the Cubs then went on to win their first World Series, defeating Detroit in five games.

1908: The Cubs were World Series champions for the second straight year, defeating Detroit four games to one.

1911: Frank "Wildfire" Schulte became the first player in the majors to hit at least 20 doubles, 20 triples and 20 homers in a single season.

1916: The Cubs moved into Weeghman Park (now known as Wrigley Field).

1921: William Wrigley Jr. became the Cubs' majority owner.

© Wrigley's involvement with the team began in 1916, when a 10-man syndicate led by Charles Weeghman purchased the club from Charles Taft ... in 1919, Wrigley purchased Weeghman's shares to have controlling interest.

© After Wrigley's death in 1932, his interest passed to his son, Philip K. Wrigley ... upon Philip's death in 1977, principal interest in the ballclub was left to his son, William Wrigley.

© The sale of the club to Tribune Company in 1981 ended the longest continuous operation of a franchise by the same family in one city.

1924: The first Cubs game was broadcast on the radio ... Hal Totten transmitted the April 23 home opener from the Wrigley Field roof ... Chicago routed the Cardinals 12-1 in the contest.

The Cubs won 16 consecutive games Jon Lieber started at Wrigley Field from May 24, 2001-May 6, 2002. He had a personal 13-0 mark over the 16-start span.

The stretch is tied for the longest winning span for a pitcher at Wrigley Field since the ballpark was built in 1914. The club previously won 16-straight Lon Warneke starts May 27, 1932-April 18, 1933 (Warneke went 13-0 at home over the span).

The ballpark record for consecutive victories by an individual is 15, set by Bill Lee from September 7, 1935-August 26, 1936 (17 starts).

HEY NOW, YOU'RE AN ALL-STAR

Ernie Banks was selected to the National League All-Star team 14 times, the highest total for a Cubs player. Ryne Sandberg ranks second in club history with 10 All-Star appearances (nine starts).

The only Cub to earn Most Valuable Player honors was Bill Madlock, who had a game-winning two-run bases-loaded ninth-inning single off the White Sox's Rich Gossage in the 1975 contest. Madlock shared MVP honors with the New York Mets' Jon Matlack.

Seven Cubs batters have hit All-Star home runs, most recently Alfonso Soriano in the 2007 contest off Seattle's J.J. Putz. The others: Augie Galan (1936 off Detroit's Schoolboy Rowe), Hank Sauer (1952 off Cleveland's Bob Lemon), Ernie Banks (1960 off Boston's Bill Monbouquette), George Altman (1961 off Boston's Mike Fornieles), Billy Williams (1964 off Kansas City's John Wyatt) and Andre Dawson (1991 off Boston's Roger Clemens).

Cubs pitchers have earned five All-Star wins – Bob Rush (1952), Larry Jackson (1963), Bruce Sutter (1978 and 1979) and Lee Smith (1987). Cubs relievers have picked up four saves (Lon Warneke in 1936, Don Elston in 1959, Sutter in 1980 and Randy Myers in 1995). Cubs pitchers have suffered four All-Star losses – Bill Lee (1939), Claude Passeau (1941 and 1946) and Johnny Schmitz (1948).

Passeau is the only Cubs pitcher to start in the All-Star Game, taking the loss in the 1946 Midsummer Classic at Boston's Fenway Park.

The youngest Cubs player selected to the N.L. All-Star team was Greg Maddux, who was 22 years old at the 1988 Midsummer Classic in Cincinnati. As he did not participate in that contest, the nod as the youngest Cub to play in the All-Star Game goes to 23-year-old Ron Santo in 1963. The youngest Cubs pitcher to appear in an All-Star Game was 23-year-old Carlos Zambrano (2004).

The oldest Cub to play in an All-Star Game was 38-year-old Ernie Banks, who made his 13th and final All-Star appearance in the 1969 Classic in Washington, DC.

Three Cubs managers have guided the N.L. All-Star team – Charlie Grimm (1936 and 1946), Gabby Hartnett (1939) and Dusty Baker (2003).

Three All-Star Games have been played at Wrigley Field – in 1947, in 1962 and in 1990. The American League won all three games by scores of 2-1, 9-4 and 2-0.

PHILLING UP THE SCOREBOARD

On August 25, 1922, the Cubs topped Philadelphia 26-23 at Cubs Park in the highest-scoring game in major league history. The teams combined for 51 hits, 23 walks and 25 men left-on-base. A 10-run second inning followed by a 14-run outburst in the fourth helped the Cubs build a 25-6 lead. Philadelphia fought back and had the bases full when the last out was recorded in the ninth inning.

On May 17, 1979, Dave Kingman hit three homers and drove in six runs, but Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt answered with two homers – including the game-winner in the 10th – to give the Phillies a 23-22 victory in baseball's highest-scoring game since the 1922 affair. The Cubs had trailed 21-9, but rallied and tied the score in the eighth.

Top Cubs Batters: Jody Davis – .389, 2 homers, 6 RBI ... Ryne Sandberg –.368

- © The Cubs hit five homers and had 16 hits in routing the Padres 13-0 in Game One, as winning pitcher Rick Sutcliffe allowed two hits in 7.0 innings and homered ... behind Steve Trout, the Cubs then won the second game 4-2.
- © San Diego routed the Cubs in Game Three, then won the fourth game 7-5 behind Steve Garvey's five-RBI contest.
- © In the decisive fifth game, Leon Durham's two-run homer and Jody Davis' solo shot gave the Cubs a 3-0 lead entering the bottom of the sixth inning ... San Diego, though, scored twice in the sixth and four times in the seventh to advance to the World Series.

Cubs Pitching: 4.44 ERA
Top Cubs Batters: Scott Servais – 2-for-3, Tyler Houston – 1 homer
Top Cubs Pitcher: Kevin Tapani – 1.00 ERA

Atlanta pitching proved to be too much for the Cubs, who needed a Wild Card tie-breaker contest against San Francisco to qualify for the postseason.

- The Cubs were held to just four runs, 17 hits and a .181 average ... Braves pitchers recorded a 1.29 ERA.
- Cubs pitchers limited Atlanta's offense to just a .228 average ... Cubs starters gave up only four earned runs in 20.0 innings.
- Two days before the start of the Division Series – on September 28 at Wrigley Field – the Cubs earned a spot in the playoffs as the National League's Wild Card team after beating San Francisco 5-3 ... Steve Trachsel took a no-hitter into the sixth inning, Gary Gaetti belted a two-run homer, pinch-hitter Matt Mieske singled in two runs and Rod Beck picked up the save as the Cubs advanced to the playoffs.

2003 NLDS: Cubs Defeated Braves 3-2

Cubs Batting: .257, 8 doubles, 4 homers
Cubs Pitching: 3.07 ERA
Top Cubs Batters: Moises Alou – .500, 3 RBI ... Eric Karros – .375, 2 homers, 2 RBI
Top Cubs Pitchers: Kerry Wood – 2-0, 1.76 ERA ... Mark Prior – 1-0, 1.00 ERA

For the first time since winning the 1908 World Series, the Cubs were victorious in a postseason series ... as such, the Cubs qualified for their first trip to the National League Championship Series since 1989.

- The affair was only the third "final and decisive" post-season contest in Cubs history ... the club had dropped Game Seven of the 1945 World Series to Detroit and Game Five of the 1984 NLCS to San Diego.
- With two victories, Kerry Wood became the first Cub to pick up a pair of wins in a post-season series since Hank Borowy in the 1945 World Series ... he fanned 18 batters in the two starts, surpassing the club-record 17 recorded by Hippo Vaughn in the 1918 World Series ... in the series-opening 4-2 victory, he had two hits – and drove in the game-winning run with a two-run double in the Cubs four-run sixth inning.
- In Game Three (a 3-1 Cubs win), Mark Prior went the distance – allowing two hits while fanning seven ... he was the first Cubs pitcher to throw a complete game in the postseason since Claude Passeau accomplished the feat in Game Three of the 1945 World Series ... in the process, he also became the second hurler to throw a two-hitter in a Division Series affair, joining Nolan Ryan (October 6, 1981).

2003 NLCS: Marlins Defeated Cubs 4-3

Cubs Batting: .258, 10 doubles, 13 homers
Cubs Pitching: 4.36 ERA
Top Cubs Batters: Moises Alou – .310, 2 homers, 5 RBI ... Sammy Sosa – .308, 2 homers, 6 RBI ... Alex Gonzalez – .286, 3 homers, 7 RBI
Top Cubs Pitcher: Matt Clement – 1-0, 3.52 ERA ... Mark Prior – 1-1, 3.14 ERA

Five outs – that's all that stood between the Cubs 3-0 lead in Game Six and their first trip to the Fall Classic since 1945 ... before two of those outs could be recorded, Florida stunned the Cubs with an eight-run eighth-inning rally.

- By the time the fateful eighth was over, the Marlins had sent 12 batters to the plate ... the eight runs were the most in an NLCS inning since St. Louis plated nine in the second inning October 13, 1985, against Los Angeles.
- There was another day for the Cubs, however ... in Game Seven, they found themselves down 3-0 early before rallying to tie the score in the bottom of the second – including a two-run shot by Kerry Wood ... his roundtripper was just the fourth by a pitcher in NLCS history – and the first since the Cubs Rick Sutcliffe went deep in Game One of the 1984 NLCS vs. San Diego ... the Cubs then went ahead 5-3 in the third inning on Moises Alou's two-run homer ... from that point, though, the Cubs were held to just one hit – a Troy O'Leary pinch homer in the seventh off Josh Beckett – as the Marlins pushed across six runs from the fifth through seventh innings.
- In the process, the Marlins became the fourth team in League Championship Series history to overcome a three-games-to-one deficit in advancing to the World Series.

Top Cubs Batters: Mark DeRosa – .333 ... Daryle Ward – .500, 2 RBI
Top Cubs Pitcher: Carlos Zambrano – 0-0, 1.50 ERA (6.0 IP) ... Bob Howry – 0-0, 0.00 ERA (3.0 IP)

In the team's first post-season appearance since 2003, the Cubs were swept by the Arizona Diamondbacks, three-games-to-none, in the National League Division Series ... Chicago batted just .194 (19-for-98) in the series with six runs scored ... Chicago batted just .087 (2-for-23) with runners in scoring position while Geovany Soto hit the club's lone home run - a two-run blast in Game Two off Arizona's Doug Davis.

- © Soto's long ball made him just the second Cubs rookie to ever homer in a post-season contest ... previously, Cubs rookie Frank Demaree homered off the Yankees Johnny Allen on October 2, 1932, in the fourth game of the 1932 World Series at Wrigley Field..
- © The Cubs dropped Game One, 4-1, as Carlos Zambrano went up against Arizona's Brandon Webb ... the game was tied 1-1 before the Diamondbacks scored two runs off Carlos Marmol in the seventh.
- © Chicago enjoyed its only lead of the series when Soto's two-run homer in the second inning of Game Two at Chase Field gave the Cubs an early 2-0 ... Arizona rebounded for four runs in the bottom half of the inning and would hold the lead for the remainder of the game.
- © In Game Three, the Diamondbacks touched Rich Hill for three runs in 3.0 innings of work as Chicago went 0-for-9 with runners in scoring position.

WRIGLEY FIELD INFORMATION

History of Wrigley Field

Wrigley Field, which was built in 1914, is playing host to professional baseball for the 98th season in 2011 – and to the Cubs for the 96th year. Wrigley Field is the second-oldest ballpark in the major leagues behind Boston's Fenway Park (1912).

- The Friendly Confines has been the location of such historic moments as:
  - Babe Ruth's "called shot," when Ruth allegedly pointed to a bleacher location during Game 3 of the 1932 World Series ... Ruth then hit Charlie Root's next pitch for a homer.
  - Gabby Hartnett's famous "Homer in the Gloamin' " September 28, 1938, off Pittsburgh's Mace Brown.
  - The great May 2, 1917, pitching duel between Jim "Hippo" Vaughn and the Reds' Fred Toney ... both Vaughn and Toney threw no-hitters for 9.0 innings before Cincinnati's Jim Thorpe (of Olympic fame) drove in the only run in the 10th inning ... Toney finished with a no-hitter.
  - Ernie Banks' 500th career home run May 12, 1970, vs. Atlanta's Pat Jarvis.
  - Pete Rose's 4,191st career hit, which tied him with Ty Cobb for the most hits in baseball history ... Rose singled off Reggie Patterson September 8, 1985.
  - Kerry Wood's 20-strikeout affair in 1998.
  - Sammy Sosa's 60th home runs in 1998, 1999 and 2001.
  - Greg Maddux's 3,000th career strikeout July 26, 2005.
  - Tom Glavine's 300th career victory August 5, 2007.
  - The 1947, 1962 and 1990 All-Star Games.

Originally known as Weeghman Park, Wrigley Field was built on the grounds once occupied by a seminary.

- Weeghman Park was the home of Chicago's entry in the Federal League and was the property of Charles H. Weeghman ... the club was known as both the Federals and the Whales.
- The cost of building Weeghman Park, which had a seating capacity of 14,000, was estimated at $250,000 ... the infield and outfield consisted of more than 4,000 yards of soil and four acres of bluegrass.
- The first major league game at the ballpark took place April 23, 1914, with the Federals defeating Kansas City 9-1 ... the first homer in ballpark history was hit by Federals catcher Art Wilson – a two-run shot in the second inning off Kansas City's Chief Johnson.
- When the Federal League folded for financial reasons after the 1915 campaign, Weeghman purchased the Cubs from the Taft family of Cincinnati and moved the club to the two-year-old ballpark at the corner of Clark and Addison streets.
- The first National League game at the ballpark was played April 20, 1916, when the Cubs beat the Cincinnati Reds 7-6 in 11 innings ... a bear cub was in attendance at the game.
- The park became known as Cubs Park in 1920 after the Wrigley family purchased the team from Weeghman ... it was named Wrigley Field in 1926 in honor of William Wrigley Jr., the club's owner.

The original vines were purchased and planted by Bill Veeck in September 1937 ... Veeck strung bittersweet from the top of the wall to the bottom, then planted the ivy at the base of the wall.

- Ernie Banks' uniform number (14) is imprinted on the flag which flies from the left field foul pole, directly above Ron Santo's No. 10 and Fergie Jenkins' No. 31 ... Ryne Sandberg's No. 23, Billy Williams' No. 26 and Greg Maddux' No. 31 fly from the right field foul pole.

The Wrigley Field bleachers and scoreboard were constructed in 1937 when the outfield area was renovated to provide improved and expanded seating ... the original scoreboard remains intact.

- The score-by-innings and the pitchers' numbers are changed by hand ... the numbers signaling batter, ball, strike and out, along with "H" and "E" – to signify hit and error – are eyelets.
- No batted ball has ever hit the center field scoreboard ... two baseballs barely missed – a homer hit onto Sheffield Avenue (right-center) by Bill Nicholson in 1948, and one hit by Roberto Clemente onto Waveland Avenue (left-center) in 1959.
- One of the traditions of Wrigley Field is the flying of a flag bearing a "W" or an "L" atop the scoreboard after a game ... a white flag with a blue "W" indicates a victory; a blue flag with a white "L" denotes a loss.

Wrigley Field added lights in 1988.

- The first night game took place August 8 against Philadelphia, but was rained out in the fourth inning.
- The first official night game occurred August 9 vs. New York, when the Cubs defeated the Mets 6-4.
- In 2011, Wrigley Field will be celebrating its 24th year of playing host to baseball under the lights.
  - The Cubs entered the 2011 season having played 449 home night contests (going 233-216).

Wrigley Field has been the site of numerous construction projects since 1981.

- New office space was created and old offices refurbished in the administrative area behind home plate in 1981-1982, while the ticket office was built directly behind home plate in 1983.
- During the winter of 1984, a new home clubhouse was completed under the third base stands ... the visitors' clubhouse was renovated in 1990.
- In 1989, private boxes were constructed on the mezzanine level, formerly occupied by the press box and broadcast booths ... a press box and broadcast booths were constructed in the upper deck directly behind home plate ... other improvements included a food court in the upper deck.
  - Following renovations in 1994 and 1995, there are 61 private boxes.
- An elevator was added to the third base concourse in 1996.
- Following the 2005 season, the Cubs expanded the bleachers, adding a restaurant in the batter's eye and a window to Sheffield Avenue in right field.
- In the winter of 2007, Wrigley underwent a major field renovation project to remove the field's crown, install an intricate drainage system underneath and create a new playing surface.
- The beautification of the Wrigley Field campus also included the installation of personalized pavers beginning near the corner of Sheffield and Addison, running down Addison Street towards Clark Street and the Wrigley Field marquee.
- Prior to the 2010 season, the back of the centerfield scoreboard was fully renovated for the first time since it was installed in 1937 ... restrooms were remodeled and fitted with new fixtures ... a new viewing plaza was created adjacent to the indoor batting cage to provide fans the opportunity to watch batting practice, and an upscale club was added to the mezzanine suites down the left field line.

© HoHoKam Stadium is operated by the city of Mesa with assistance from the HoHoKams, a local service organization.

© Mesa is the second-largest city in the Phoenix metropolitan area and the third-largest city in Arizona ... Mesa is located southeast of Phoenix and Scottsdale.

- With a population of more than 460,000, Mesa ranks as one of the fastest growing cities in the United States (among those with populations of at least 200,000) and the 38th-largest city in the country — bigger than Atlanta and Miami.
- Mesa was founded in January 1878 and was incorporated in July 1883 ... the area of the city is 128 square miles.

© The telephone number for the Mesa Convention and Visitors Bureau is 1-800-283-MESA.
